Unless you're buying custom-made window treatments, you have to find pieces that actually fit your window. You also want to find window treatments that enhance the window. For example, if the window casings look a bit worn and you don't have time to replace them, you may want to opt for blinds or shades mounted on the outside of the window or pair a shade with curtains to disguise the casing. Pick a Style The final consideration when shopping for window treatments is the style of the room. What you put over the windows may complement or contrast with the furniture and colors. Traditional rooms feel warm and inviting. In these rooms you see wood accents, plush furniture and decorative items like baskets, plants and wall hangings that catch your eye. Solid color drapes and wood shutters work well in these rooms because they don't detract from the rest of the decor. D. Wright has been covering the video game industry since 2007.
