Yes check your grounds, hook up volt meter to ground wire where it comes out of cluster w/piercing probe or pin and a hot wire and see if you have same voltage as battery. If thats ok you have 3 options bad wiring or connector, bad cluster, or bad smart system. Your dealer can check smart system, CDI can check cluster I think, you can check harness connections. This is a smart craft system? Good luck.

I'm embarrassed to admit that I don't really know what it looks like. .. it fell off and was lost before I got an opportunity to see what it really looked like. My recollection however was that it did not have a paddlewheel. What I was told by the technician attempting the repair was that there was a wire that was connected to the speedometer mechanism and when the unit fell off the boat the exposed leads of the separated wire came into contact with something and blew the fuse.
